Description

Heliopsis helianthoides 'Burning Hearts' (False Sunflower) is a showy short-lived perennial forming an upright clump of stiff purple stems boasting sunflower-like flowers from midsummer to fall. Each blossom features bright golden-yellow petals with vibrant red-orange centers, surrounding a cone-shaped brownish-yellow center disk. It is native to eastern and central North America. The flowers are highly attractive to bees, butterflies and other pollinating insects. The stems are clothed with pairs of rough-textured, toothed, dark purple leaves. A valuable addition to the landscape especially in rock gardens, beds and borders and also appropriate for containers. Hardy and easy to grow, it is a beautiful garden perennial for dry sites.
